

Part-Time Middle School General Music Teacher & Private Voice Instructor

Germantown Academy, located in Fort Washington, Pennsylvania, is seeking qualified, experienced candidates for the position of general music teacher & private voice instructor, beginning August, 2017. This is a 10-month position which offers a highly competitive salary. The Academy, founded in 1759, is a non-sectarian, coeducational, college preparatory school of more than 1,100 students in Grades PK-12, located in the northwest suburbs of Philadelphia on a campus of 126 acres. At Germantown Academy, we are committed to creating a learning environment that is as diverse as the broader, global world of which we are a part. We value this diversity because it makes us a stronger community, enriches our thinking and helps us to develop our collaborative spirit. Qualified applicants will meet the following criteria:

Key Responsibilities:

The general music teacher and voice instructor will teach at least three sections of general music to sixth, seventh, and/or eighth grade students, as well as give private voice lessons to interested students. Additionally, there may be opportunities to support Middle School choral ensembles.

Qualifications:

1. A minimum of a Bachelor's Degree in music education or a related field
2. Experience teaching general music strongly preferred
3. Experience teaching middle school, and a demonstrated desire to work with middle school students
4. Previous experience as a voice instructor and a significant choral background strongly preferred

Candidates who meet these criteria should send a cover letter, resume, and a list of at least three current references to:
