Greetings and a special announcement from the PMEA State Retired Member Coordinator!

Thanks to the behind-the-scene efforts of our very efficient PMEA office staff (most notably Abigail Young and David Weiss), we have just launched the Retiree Resource Registry (R³) and posted it on the PMEA website.

My goals for the retirees through R³, PMEA News articles, the new Retired Member section on the website, and our annual PMEA state breakfast meeting on March 27, 2015 at 7:30 a.m. in Hershey, are the following:

- Interconnect retired music teachers with PMEA and each other.
- Provide opportunities for involvement in our association and profession.
- Recognize the accomplishments of and news/views from our retirees.

The R³ will allow us to share the vast wealth of the PMEA Retired Member experiences and expertise, archiving their special skills, interests, and past professional assignments and awards. (We will never forget the contributions they have made to music education!) In addition, now the entire PMEA membership has a list of very willing and capable informal “go-to people” if they need help or advice on a specific topic.

The response has been overwhelming! So far (and the year is young), we have been blest with 60+ retired members completing the online R³ survey, representing more than 1800 years of invaluable inspiration in and mastery of music teaching in the schools and communities! Thanks, bravo, and kudos to all of you!
