

2022 PMEA Call for Research

Ends on October 15, 2021

Submission Deadline: October 15, 2021

The Pennsylvania Music Educators Association Research Committee announces a call for research for presentation at the PMEA Annual In-Service Conference to be held at the Kalahari Resort and Conference Center, in Pocono Manor, PA, April 6-April 9, 2022. The PMEA Research Committee will blind review submission materials corresponding with the indicated option at time of submission:

Option 1, Poster Only

Abstracts of completed or in-progress research of any type (i.e., quantitative, qualitative, mixed methods, philosophical, historical) for Poster Session presentation.

Option 2, Poster and Research Presentation

If completed or in-progress abstract is accepted for poster presentation, primary author requests its consideration also for paper presentation at one of two Research Forums.

Option 3, Poster and Research-to-Practice Workshop

If abstract for completed research project is accepted for poster presentation, primary author requests review of additional workshop submission materials for consideration also for presentation during one of two Research-to-Practice Workshops. (Workshop presenters actively involve attendees in applications of the submitted research procedures, outcomes, and/or implications.)

*The window for submitting proposals for research session presentations is August 11 – October 15, 2021.

Instructions for Submission

- Deadline: 11:59 p.m., Eastern Daylight Time (EDT), October 15, 2021
- For complete instructions to prepare an abstract for each of your research submissions, go to <https://bit.ly/3lKnN8w>.

Note the following additional requirements:

1. Submitters should not have published the results of their submitted research, and must disclose the name of conference, location, and presentation date if the submitted research has been simultaneously submitted for a separate presentation or already presented at one or more conference.
2. Submission of a research proposal is a commitment by all co-authors to register for the PMEA conference, and attend the session(s) for which the research is accepted.
3. All researchers presenting on PMEA programs must be members of NAFME, or register for the PMEA conference at the non-member rate.

4. Submission of a research proposal assumes acceptance of the scheduled time.
5. The primary author of a research proposal with multiple authors will be responsible for informing all additional authors of all notifications and specifics relating to the session(s).
6. For accepted research, primary author agrees to prepare an updated abstract with additional information for distribution at the poster session presentation. Details to include on the updated abstract will be provided in the notification of acceptance.

Abstracts and outlines will be blind-reviewed and notifications will be sent electronically to primary authors by Wednesday, October 27, 2021. Accepted primary authors will be asked to confirm attendance by midnight, EDT, November 3, 2021. Presenters at PMEA 2022 have the option of sharing their updated abstract for our posting to the PMEA Research webpage. Thank you! We look forward to your submission(s).
